Blossoming Beautifully

Gift of Evangelism

Rocio has been a part of our church for a few years. She has steadily grown as she finished her discipleship program, joined the church, and started studying in our institute. On a recent trip to visit her family she witnessed to her sister-in-law, Amparo. After a thorough Gospel presentation, Amparo trusted in Christ. Rocio is a faithful witness. She is always trying to win someone. She told me the other day, "Pastor, I love to evangelize, I think it might be my spiritual gift!"

Blossoming Beautifully

Allison was someone that came to church with her mom, but more as an obligation. We tried to disciple her but there was no interest. After a service this year she trusted in Christ as her Savior. Since then, my wife discipled her and she was baptized. There has been a notable change in attitude and interest in the things of God. She has been faithful to church and is now blossoming beautifully.

Only God

Last year a pastor I had never met emailed me to notify me that his church was going to start to support us. Then a few months later, they gave us a large love offering towards our building project. Last month we were able to go up and meet them for the first time. Thank you church for giving! Only God moves people to supply our needs behind the scenes. We are about to start the next phase of our building project. We pray He leads you to be that next 'Only God' story.

Taking That Step

Paola first started coming to our church when invited by a family member. She was kind of hit and miss at the beginning. Sometimes we wouldn't see her for months. This year she has gotten plugged in. Now that she is starting to grow, she decided she needed to do what she had been putting off. She signed up and took that important spiritual step to follow the Lord in believer's baptism.
